"Yes, these are genuine diamonds, all right," said the owner of a downtown laundry as he drew a pair of heavy links from a gentleman's shirt. "Often happen? Why, look here," and he drew open a small box and displayed a dozen links and collar buttons. "These came in this week. Some are valuable, some are not, but a dishonest dealer could really make a small fortune in a year's time. We don't find much jewelry in women's apparel. They are not as forgetful as men in this respect."—New York Sun.

Pig Iron Without Coal

Pig iron is being made directly from the ore without fuel in California, the regular heat being supplied by electricity. The process is too expensive to be employed where coal is abundant and cheap, and will not soon come into use in the eastern part of the country.

PRESENT TEACHERS TO BE RE-EMPLOYED

Clinton Will Have Same Teaching Corps As Last Year—S. S. Jones Injured.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Clinton, May 10.—The entire corps of public school teachers have signified their intention of returning to Clinton except Miss Eva Mason the kindergarten teacher. A general raise in salary though not large looked good to them all. It is a matter of very great regret that Miss Mason will not return as she has proven herself exceptionally fitted for her work and the little tots idolize her and their mothers trust her implicitly.

S. S. Jones Injured.
Hon. S. S. Jones while working on the stretch of new road on Milwaukee road west of town Saturday had the misfortune to have his right foot very badly crushed. The big steam roller and water tank coming together unexpectedly was the cause. Although in great pain he never stopped work long enough to even look at the wounded foot.

Mr. Kizer and Leonard Hamilton spent part of Saturday in Deloit. Several important real estate transactions are in course of consummation which will necessitate several people moving their place of residence.

Mr. G. Larson, south of town, died Friday evening. Mr. Larson has been ailing for several months. He was an honorable upright citizen and was a good soldier.

Prof. F. J. Lovett and mother of Evansville came here Saturday. The professor for only a few hours, but Madison Lovett spent Sunday here the guest of her old friend and neighbor, Mrs. J. C. Barker.

Mr. Chauncey Adair of Burlington came over Sunday in his auto, the guest of Miss Frances Woodard.

Mrs. Arthur Harris and party of friends motored down from Jansville Sunday.

Rev. Clyde Meleo addressed a Union meeting of the three churches Sunday evening at Baptist church, subject the boy.

Druggist Chas. H. Jones and family of Deloit came here over Sunday in their auto to visit friends.

Mrs. V. E. Wheeler died very suddenly this morning. Although she has been gradually failing for several months, the end came unexpectedly. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

L. H. Smith sold his recent home, or what remains of it since the fire to George Ames, who will repair the house and put it in condition for rental.

W. C. McAten of Chicago, visited his brother, C. E. McAten Saturday. He will soon move to Florida where he expects to make his future home, and engage in fruit raising.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Butterfield have bought an 80 acre farm near Delphi.

Kansas, and will move there about Sept. 1st. They will be missed greatly by their many friends.

Mrs. M. Holport of Rockford spent Saturday and Sunday here the guests of friends.

Blair Simpson of Deloit, visited friends in H. Clinton on Sunday. Visiting L. C. Mayberry on North Church St., is on the sick list. His condition is causing his family great uneasiness on account of his extreme feebleness.

Miss Buckley and wife of Chicago, spent Sunday here at the Buckley parental home.

Mrs. Solon Cooper attended the Mothers meeting, Deloit Saturday and stayed over Sunday with her daughter Estelle.

Mrs. J. R. Sayers left Sunday evening for her home at St. Louis, after a three weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Babcock.

Mrs. Rufus E. Green of Waukegan, arrived Saturday to take Mrs. Sayers place attending their mother.

Doctor J. Walton Ames and wife, Mr. F. Crowe and wife, Miss Griffin of Evansville, came down in Mr. Ames' New Overland car Sunday to visit Mr. Ames' parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Ames.

SHORT TICKET WILL AID THE TRAVELERS

Doing Away With the Old Time System of Long and Cumbersome Tickets.

What is expected to revolutionize the universal passenger ticket system now in use is the Parker Junction coupon ticket, the fruit of the inventive brain of William S. Parker, ticket agent at the Union depot in Ottumwa, Iowa. The new ticket is now in the hands of the committee on universal tickets, and its worth will probably be acknowledged by the acceptance of the ticket.

Aside from the fact that it shortens the cumbersome long ticket, the new ticket, it is said, will prove a boon to the railroads adopting it. It cuts down printing bills, lessens the size of the ticket holders in office, and practically does away with nine-tenths of the clerical work of the ticket seller or now necessary.

The new ticket is in the form of a small booklet, fastened together by Link and Pin.

Three switchmen, Joseph Dempsey, Clayton Bradley and Roy Horn were welcomed into the ranks of the trainmen at their regular meeting yesterday. The greetings were hearty and forceful, especially the latter, and the trio stood up well under the ordeal. In fact, they still stand up today, even when they want to sit down.

Michael William Buschinger has been promoted to the office of foreman in the machine shop, the position recently vacated by Joe Smith who is now night foreman at Fortieth street. The promotion comes as a recognition of merit and meets with the hearty approval of the entire force.

After it had been shown that the present traffic handled in this city would not permit of a reduction in the number of switch engines, it was decided to keep six engines in service. As now arranged, there are two night and two day engines in the yards, one half and half and a day engine down town.

Engineer Shelds has reported for work on the Deloit runs after a month's vacation.

W. Wilke reported for work on 588 this morning after a short lay-off.

About two feet of lime is being cleaned from the hot water system today.

Engineer Lepper and Fireman Pierce spent Sunday with acquaintances in this city.

Engineer Wilson and Fireman Wilkins caught the half and half today.

J. J. Cole has given up his place as night stationary engineer at the yards. C. J. Cronin, switchman at the five points, expects to take the job.

Engineer A. R. Tallmadge has returned to work on the six a. m. switch engine after an extended vacation spent at West Baden, Ind.

J. W. Lewis relieved Engineer G. E. Cole as dispatcher last night.

Engineer Townsend and Fireman Ashley went south in the Wisconsin Division pool this morning at 10 o'clock.

Conductor A. L. Astrup has returned to work on the Evansville runs after a three months' vacation spent in Florida.

Some of the Madison Division crews working between here and Deloit and threatening to lie up for lack of clothes.

Fireman Gratin relieved Walters on the 6 a. m. switch engine yesterday.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Michael T. Sullivan has been appointed night round house foreman to succeed James Crowley who gave up the job recently.

Engineer Wright had Callahan's place on the switch engine yesterday.

Fireman Kilgally is relieving Knelling on the switch engine today with Engineer Janice.

Michael Chas. Young left for Deloit this morning to repair the Lino City switch engine.

Engineer Meyer and Fireman Donley took an extra east last night at 12:30 with engine 1413 and returned this morning at 9:55.

ROCK RIVER TO BE STOCKED WITH PIKE

Thirty Thousand Fry To Be Released Here On Saturday Of This Week.

Through the efforts of Assemblyman Grant U. Fisher, ten cases of pike fry from the Oshkosh hatchery are to be dumped into the Rock river on Saturday next. The plan is to place them in the river between the two dams giving promise of future fishing for uninitiated disciples of Isaac Walton untroubled by past experience. Each case contains three thousand fish which means that thirty thousand will be placed in the water. They grow from a pound to a pound and a half each year so that by next year there will be good fishing. The state law inflicts a penalty for the catching of any pike of less than a pound in weight round or undersized weight so that the little fellows will be protected for a year to come and then the fishing should be fine.

FIRST EFFECTS OF COMMITTEE'S WORK

Industrial and Commercial Club Directors Have Weekly Meeting Today.

One of the first effects of the work of the railway committee of the Industrial and Commercial club has been shown in the putting on of what is known as an "Industrial" switch engine by the Chicago and Northwestern road. This engine, which was put on duty at the Evansville station at the request of the committee and investigated shipping conditions. It will be used to haul the cars to and from the local factory. The directors of the club met this noon and talked with D. H. Kers of Des Moines, Iowa, who is an applicant for the position of secretary.

Virtue In Hot Coffee.
It is asserted by men of high professional ability that when the system needs a stimulant nothing equals a cup of fresh coffee, while those who have tried it state that malaria and similar epidemics are avoided by those who drink a cup of hot coffee before venturing into the morning air. Burnt or hot ends it is a disinfectant for a sick room. By some of our best physicians it is considered a specific in typhoid fever.

MAY VIEW COMET AT STATE OBSERVATORY

Prof. G. C. Comstock Arranges to Accommodate Visitor During the Week of May 20-21.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., May 10.—Prof. G. C. Comstock, director of Wisconsin Observatory at the University of Wisconsin, has arranged a plan to accommodate visitors who desire to view Halley's comet through the telescope at that institution. As the number who can be provided for during the short time that the comet can be seen best is limited, it has been necessary to arrange to issue tickets of admission. The observatory will be open to visitors for this purpose every evening from Friday, May 20, to Thursday, May 26. Admission tickets may be obtained for any evening except May 21, 23 and 25 free of charge upon written application, accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, made to the director of the observatory on or before May 16.

The evening of Saturday, May 21, will be reserved for university students. Tickets for Monday evening, May 23, will be issued by the university bureau at fifty cents each; and those for Wednesday evening, May 25, will be issued in the same way for twenty-five cents; and preference in this sale will be given to mail orders. No tickets will be sold until May 16.

The university authorities regret that it is necessary to place any limitations upon free access to the observatory, as they would be glad to extend to all of the people of the state the privilege of viewing the institution. But experience has shown that much inconvenience and danger would result from overcrowding the observatory. To guard against these difficulties the plan of admission by ticket has been adopted. Only a limited number of tickets will be issued for any evening, and each person will thus be allowed from half a minute to a minute at the telescope. The comet, which is now invisible, will appear on May 19 in the western sky early in the evening. At its first reappearance it will set soon after sunset, but will rapidly increase its distance from the sun, so that by May 21 it will be visible until 11 o'clock, and at the end of the month the head of the comet will set shortly before half past eleven.

SECOND TRIAL FOR THIS WIFE SLAYER

Alton V. Hoover Who Was Convicted and Sentenced to Death Will Have Another Hearing at Erie, Pa.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Erie, Pa., May 10.—Much interest is manifested in the second trial of Alton V. Hoover, the alleged wife murderer of Crawford county, which was on the court calendar to begin in the Oyer and Terminer Court today. At the first trial Hoover was convicted and sentenced to death.

Hoover's crime was the shooting down of his young wife, Corn May Hoover, in the small town of Atlantic, near Meadville, on Nov. 27, 1908. Hoover was a young merchant of the village and his wife was one of the most beautiful girls of the neighborhood. Early in the summer of 1908, a month before her baby was born, Mrs. Hoover had been obliged to leave her husband because of his ill treatment.

She was living in the home of her parents where, on Thanksgiving night, she was called up on the telephone by her husband who asked her to return home at once. Accompanied by her sister who went to her home the next day, but could not get into the house. With her sister, she went to the home of a neighbor. Hoover called there and when his wife came to the door deliberately shot her down with a revolver he had purchased the day before. Immediately after the crime the slayer surrounded himself to the police and declared he did not know why he had killed his wife.

BRODHEAD.

Brodhead, May 10.—Mrs. Fred Trent of Monroe, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Gombur the latter part of last week.

Ernest Stewart was home over Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stewart.

Astronomer Never Saw Stars.
Dr. Max Wolf of Heidelberg, to whom astronomy owes the discovery, by the aid of photography, of 36 new asteroids, has himself never seen a single one of these little planets. He has only looked upon the images of the stars discovered by him, leaving to other "searchers of the sky" the pleasure of viewing them through telescopes.

A Good Bluffer

By C. B. BURGESS
Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

The best bluffer I ever knew was Ned Thornton of Chicago. One winter Ned and I met in Berlin and went together to a students' ball. While Ned was dancing with a very pretty French girl who evidently had a claim upon her came up to him and said:

"I will pigsticker you."

That's the way they have over there of telling a man that he's got to fight.

Ned turned upon him with well assumed fury and replied:

"And I will let the sawdust out of you."

Later a dapper officer with a wasp waist stepped up to Ned and handed him a card on which was engraved "Lieutenant Ernst von Battenstein."

Ned, understanding that the officer addressed him as bearer of a challenge, whipped out his own card, on which he had scrawled, "Instructor of Fencing, No. 1—Dearborn Street, Chicago, U. S. A."

You see, Ned had known very well what was coming and with his usual quick foresight had prepared his first move. With a magnificent sweep of his arm he referred the lieutenant to his arm he referred the lieutenant to a cafe in the Unter den Linden in half an hour.

"Ned," I protested, "as soon as we were alone, 'you can't bluff one of these young Germans with so palpable a device as that. My opinion is that you'd better jump the town. You know well enough you've never handled a foil in your life, and at shooting you couldn't hit a ten story building at ten paces. We don't duel any more in America, and it's no disgrace to flee from these fellows who do. All we have to do is to lose ourselves for the rest of the night and take an early train in the morning."

"Oh, there's some better way out of it than that. Do you know what General Grant said when going to attack his first enemy? He said that the other fellow was probably as much scared as he was, and so he went on. Well, I've put at least the probability into this young man's head that I'm an expert, and if he doesn't believe me he won't be sure that I'm not. You go and talk with his second and hear what he has to say."

I met Von Battenstein and to help Ned on in his game assumed a confident air. I said as little as possible, for when a man is playing a desperate game it's best to let him do it all himself. The slightest interference with Ned in this instance might cost him his life. When the lieutenant asked what weapons my friend as the challenged party would choose I simply replied, "Folks, of course," and as to other details I left them entirely to him, except that the affair should be settled at once, as my man had an engagement in Paris with a pupil who needed his services in an affair of the same sort.

I flattered myself that this was keeping up the "instructor in fencing" thing pretty well. If the principal on the other side had been an officer in the army the pretense couldn't be relied on, for a soldier can't very well back out from sure death. But the would be pigsticker was a civilian, and that wasn't so bad. The officer didn't appear in the least frightened, but he was not the man who would have to meet a fencing master.

It was arranged, in order that Ned should meet his engagement in Paris, that we should be at a rendezvous where such affairs are settled at 6 o'clock the same morning. I went back and reported the outcome to Ned.

"What are you going to do?" I asked. "You're certainly not going to let this fellow run a sword through your vitals."

"Oh, I'll keep up the bluff till the last minute, and if the thing goes against me I'll find a pretext to slide out with honor."

At 5:30 we took a carriage and drove to the rendezvous. I had left the procurement of the weapons to the enemy, saying that my principal could fence as well with a cutlass as a foil and I would rely on them for weapons.

When we got on the ground the pigsticker was looking over a stock of foils and testing them, evidently thinking that if he was to meet a fencing master who didn't care whether he used a foil or a cutlass he must be carefully armed. It looked to me that the bluff game was up and Ned would have to wiggle out.

Just before taking position Ned sent me to the enemy to say that since he didn't wish to kill his antagonist he would give him the choice between losing an eye or having his nose cut off. I was to bring back word which of these the pigsticker preferred to lose.

I saw by the appearance of the principal on the other side when this cool proposition was announced to him that we had made a break. Von Battenstein took it to him, and they stood apart talking earnestly. I was in suspense as to the issue. Presently the lieutenant came to me and said that his principal had decided that the contest was too unequal to be undertaken and that since his enemy was about to leave for Paris the cause of the discomfiture would be removed.

Well, there was more palaver, but that was the end of it. The principals shook hands, and Ned invited the pigsticker if he ever came to Chicago to visit his academy on Dearborn street.

The Optimist's Corner
Daily Helps to Health and Happiness
By GEORGE V. BUTLER, A. M., D. D.

According to Edgar Allan Poe, "From the violation of a few simple laws of humanity arises the wretchedness of mankind. As a species we have in our possession the as yet unwrought elements of content."

In fact it seems reasonable that unhappiness, like every specific discord in life, must result from the fracture of some law, which, if observed, would lead to the reverse effect. For there is a law, self-evidently, for every procedure, to follow, which means success in that direction, while antagonism to it results in failure. But, as for happiness, what is it? If only we could find it! Dr. Johnson has this to say about that:

"When we act according to our duty we commit the event to him by whose laws our actions are governed. . . . When, in prospect of some good, whether natural or moral, we break the rules prescribed for us, we withdraw from the direction of superior wisdom and take all consequences upon ourselves."

Duty, then, according to this authority, is the rule which we should follow. Doubtless it is often difficult to know what our duty in some cases is, but it is certain that, in any case, we are doing our duty when we do what we believe to be our best, and in that direction cannot stray far. It is the other side that throws us down and delivers us dutifully bound to the execution—the side which impels us, "in prospect of some good," either fancied or real, to act contrary to what we know our duty to be.

Electricity in Small Towns.
Several towns in Ohio are electrified by companies which own and operate no power station, but purchase current from some central station in the district. Instead of risking the building and equipment of a power station which may not be sufficiently patronized to be profitable or waiting for the central station to reach out for the business of small country towns, companies are formed in the latter owning their own wires and buying power.

Teach Science of Hotel Keeping.
Many schools in Germany and Switzerland offer courses of instruction in the art of waiting at table. The Lausanne high school goes still further in this direction, and undertakes to teach the complete science of hotel keeping. This includes thorough proficiency in four languages, bookkeeping, geography, training in deportment, the study of hygiene and knowledge of gymnastics, calisthenics and dancing.

Expert Indorsement.
"Yes," said young Mrs. Torkins, "I am sure our garden is going to be a success." "So soon?" "Yes, the chickens have tasted everything, and they are perfectly enthusiastic."

FOR SMALL INVESTORS

Owing to its rapidly increasing business I have for sale twenty-five shares of the preferred Capital Stock of one of Jansville's most successful manufacturing corporations. This is treasury stock at $100.00 per share, with a guaranteed annual dividend of 7%.

The business has been established for years; is of steady growth and managed and owned by honest and capable business men. This presents an opportunity for the small investor to get a safe investment with an excellent rate of interest. Persons who have from $100 to $500 should be especially interested. It is a sound business proposition, not a speculation or a venture in the experimental stage. It is at home here where you know the men and can keep posted concerning conditions.

I have a detailed statement concerning the affairs of this Company and the fullest examination thereof is solicited. Remember it is a guaranteed 7% investment, interest payable at the Company's office or at any bank you may designate.

Sunday's exercises included the missionary sermon by Rev. W. E. Dougherty, assistant secretary Young People's Missionary Department.
The convention was one of the best the league has ever had in spirit and attendance.
Among those to take part Saturday was Miss Edna Mitchell of Janesville who gave a solo Saturday evening.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE
TO GO TO BRODHEAD

Green County Board Will Select Site For New Teachers Training School

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Monroe, Wis., May 15.—H. D. Corns, chairman of this city, chairman, L. J. Stutz, of Brodhead, Ernest Holcomb, of Adams, John Belinger, of Jefferson and Clarence Niles, of Brooklyn, compose the county board committee which will visit Brodhead on Friday, May 20, to look into a permanent location for the Green county teachers' training school, and to see what Brodhead has to offer as an inducement to the county to keep the school there. This committee expect to be ready to make a report at the June meeting of the county board. The business men of Brodhead have selected three representatives, A. E. Moore, J. L. Rodenbeck and Burr Sprague, to meet the school committee and to point out to them the advantages of having the school located permanently at Brodhead.

Leah C. White, acting secretary of the Monroe Building and Loan Association, owing to business that keeps him in Chicago most of his time, has given up his office as secretary and Miss Tessie Stearns has been appointed to take his place. The officers of the company report an increase of 60 per cent in the assets of the company during the past year. The following are the officers for the ensuing year: President, H. A. Eiler; Vice-president, R. H. Gifford; Secretary, Miss Tessie Stearns; and Treasurer, John Strabin.

The annual session of the Green County Medical Society will be held here in the court house Tuesday, Dr. L. A. Moore, of this city, will preside as president. Papers will be read by Dr. E. J. Holcomb, New Glarus; J. L. Pleck, Brodhead; and H. H. Gifford, Janesville. Dr. S. H. Moyle will be chairman of the banquet which will close the session.
The Carver wild west show closed their performers at the fair ground Saturday evening. Each show has been well attended but Saturday the big amphitheatre was filled to overflowing. The shooting by Dr. Carver was the feature of the program, though the 40-foot dive on the back of a horse by the Girl in Red, was no less spectacular. The bucking broncos, mule and cow also provided endless amusement for the spectators. The show will be taken to Darlington. Albert Linder has departed on a trip to Canton, N. Y. After spending a few weeks there he will go to Buenos Ayres, South America, where he has an uncle living. He does not expect to return for a year.

Peter Ruff, of Stockton, who has been a patient in the Lehighway hospital, has recovered so far as to be able to return home. Fred Maeder assisted him in getting to his home.
Mrs. Henry Ludlow represented the Woman's club of this city at the meeting of the Philanthropic club at Janesville.
Miss Edna Luchinger was home from Newey over Sunday.
Miss Mae Bridge is here from Rockford for a visit with friends and relatives.
J. T. Eiler and John Strabin are in Chicago.
Mrs. John V. Clark and daughter, spent Sunday with relatives in Rockford.
Gertude and Ramon Sullivan are here from Freeport on a visit to their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan.

Dr. Willet Stillman, Madison, spent Saturday in the village.
W. B. Anderson, Lake Mills, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Clara Anderson.
H. L. Polan preached at the S. D. B. church Saturday morning.
Mrs. Lizzie Ordway and Mrs. Murray Maxson, Chicago, are visiting friends in the village.
Frank D. Hall, of Iowa, visited Miss Lucy M. Hall Friday.
The lady friends of Mrs. L. A. Platts gave her a genuine surprise party Friday afternoon.
Clady and Doris Brobst, Brodhead, are visiting Edith Davis.

Noted the Omission.
A little three-year-old chap, who had been accustomed to seeing his father tip the waiters in the hotels while traveling, attended church one Sunday with his mother and baby brother. The baby talked so much he had to be taken out, and the little three-year-old chap followed his mother out and said to her: "You might have paid the waiter, mamma, anyhow," knowing that the collection had not yet been taken up.

TAFT ASKS
SENATOR AIDPRESIDENT INVITES WESTERN REPUBLICANS TO WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE.

WANTS HIS PROGRAM PASSED

Meeting Results in Mutual Concessions and General Clearing of Political Atmosphere—Rate Bill and Other Measures Agreed Upon.

Washington, May 16.—Republican senators from states west of the Mississippi, upon whom President Taft is depending for votes to put through his legislative program, were in conference with the president for several hours at the White House.

Nearly all of the western senators were present on the invitation of the president, except the Republican insurgents. They were not invited. The purpose of the gathering was to get all of the western Republicans in line, including some of those who have appeared lukewarm toward certain of the administration measures. No effort will be made to influence the "out-and-out insurgents," according to authoritative statements from some of the participants in the conference.

Meeting Results in Concessions.
The conference resulted in mutual concessions, a clearing of the surcharged political atmosphere and a realization on the part of every participant that something tangible must grow out of the present session of congress, if the bones of representatives is not to be lost and the country thrown into such political confusion that Republican success in the next presidential campaign will be endangered.

While the president and his intimate advisers did not yield in any important essentials, certain modifications were agreed to with regard to the railroad bill that the majority of the Republicans in the senate can consistently support it. From now on they will fight untidily for its enactment. The amendment which Mr. Cummins gave notice he will offer to section 9, providing that any increase in rates must first be approved by the commission before going into effect will be voted down. It will be proffered in debate, but the president understands that the votes are now ready with which to defeat it.

Other matters in the Taft legislative program were considered and agreed upon.

Senators Present.
The senators present were: Flint, Guggenheim, Heyburn and Borah; Curtis, Nelson, Carter and Dixon, Burkett and Brown, Nixon, Gumble and Crawford, Stuart and Rutherford, Miles and Jones, Aldrich, Elihu, Crane, Root and Brandegee. Several senators at the conference predicted that congress could not possibly adjourn before July 1.

Crowd Assaults Umpire for Making Decision—Hit Lad With Brick.

Racine, Wis., May 16.—As a result of a riot among baseball fans over the decision of Umpire Eldinger in the Oshkosh-Racine baseball game of the Wisconsin-Illinois league, Gordon Lewis, the ten-year-old son of Capt. William Mitchell Lewis, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor and millionaire automobile manufacturer, may die. The boy is suffering with a fractured skull. Lewis was in an automobile which was driving from the park when Jacob Eldinger was put in to escape the mob. Bricks were hurled at Eldinger in the automobile and one struck young Lewis on the forehead.

FIRES SWEEP NORTHERN WOODS.

Scores of Farmers Are Forced to Flee to Cities for Safety.

Duluth, Minn., May 16.—Forest fires are raging from Duluth north and east to the Canadian border, and west to the Menominee and Lake districts, 500 miles north from here. The destruction of standing pine will be very great, and scores of farmers have been compelled to flee to the cities, with their families, for safety. Many settlers' homes have been burned.

JAMES W. VAN CLEAVE EXPIRES.

Relentless Foe to Labor Boycott Dies of Heart Affection.

St. Louis, May 16.—James Wallace Van Cleave, former president of the National Association of Manufacturers, relentless foe of the labor boycott and particular nemesis of Samuel Gompers, died at his home here from a heart affection, superinduced by a stomach complaint of long standing. He was 61 years of age.

French Wint Victory in Sudan.

Paris, May 16.—A dispatch from Monrovia, Central Sudan, reports that a French punitive column numbering 200 encountered and dispersed the enemy at Agrodah and that the natives abandoned 100 dead, including eight chiefs and three dogs. The French had 12 men wounded.

Chinese Threaten Mission.

Peking, May 16.—Advices from Chung-Sha, the capital of the disturbed Province of Hunan, state that the Yale mission in that city has been placed under guard for destruction by fire, but that the plot of the natives has not been executed.

Original and Typically American Play

It's worth going miles to see.

The Most Signal Dramatic Achievement of the Decade

The first scene, the interior of a ranch-house, will be familiar to every plainman, and the second, a plateau on the "roof of the world" in the Cordillera, is a true reproduction of a wild mountain region.
The drama might be called a struggle between the Spirit of the East and the Spirit of the West. It tells the romance of an eastern woman, in whose life and habits were ingrained the traditions and conventionalities of a long line of Puritan ancestors, and a western man, as untamed in mind and action as the plains and mountains over which he roamed. This man and woman were strangely brought together. Their wooing was more strange still, and their life together the strangest thing of all.

MISSIONARIES' LIVES SACRIFICED IN A FRESH OUTBREAK OF CANNIBALISM IN THE SOUTH SEAS.

At left, the famous cannibal chief of the South Sea Islands. At bottom, Rev. James Chalmers, the famous missionary sacrificed to cannibalism.

Cannibalism has again been revived. After years of patient labor and education on the part of the missionaries in these South Pacific parts it was supposed this ancient heathen custom was blotted out of the world forever. But the killing and eating by Tonga Island cannibals last week of two Presbyterian missionaries, Rev. Horatio Hopkins and Rev. Hector McPherson, is proof conclusive that this crime against civilization is still to be encountered.

Along with the reports of the death of the two missionaries comes the significant statement that a general revival of the custom has been brought.

Skidoo to Power
Trouble

The best way to abolish labor troubles, breakdowns and all other troubles in the boiler room is to abolish the boiler room. There is a substitute for it that means cleanliness, economy, freedom from worry and better production and more of it.

That substitute is electric current. Let us figure with you on supplying our current for your power purposes. Individual motor drive makes this power yours any hour out of the whole twenty-four you want it, for a single machine or for any number of machines.

The bill stops running as soon as the machine stops. Let us figure with you.

Foolish Procrastination

Said a young man to me lately, "I'm coming in just as soon as my teeth begins to ache."

What a mistake to let the teeth decay until the nerve in the center is exposed and is causing agony, before it is thought necessary to repair the trouble.

Far better stop the trouble at once by having a neat filling put in and save all the pain and expense of nerve treatment.

An examination every six months by the Dentist is none too often. No charge for examination.

THOMAS P. BURNS IS TO GIVE TESTIMONY

Subpoenaed by U. S. Marshal Appleby to appear before Judge Landis on Wednesday in Mining Case.

Chief Deputy U. S. Marshal W. H. Appleby came to Janesville this morning to serve a subpoena on T. P. Burns to appear in Judge Landis' court in Chicago on Wednesday and testify in the case brought by the United States government against W. S. Phillips, et al. Phillips has already been convicted and sentenced to prison for his complicity, as president of the American Mink & Fur Development Co. in certain fraudulent transactions whereby proceeds from the sale of stock in the concern were used to pay dividends running as high as 50 per cent from a highly developed Mexican gold mine and the stock, in some instances never registered. The directors are now being prosecuted. Mr. Burns has no means of knowing what information he is expected to supply but has reason to believe that the stock he holds was not entered on the books until about the time the investigation or court proceedings were started. The mine is a bona fide enterprise but was slightly over-capitalized. It is said that shares aggregating $1,000,000 were sold to dry goods merchants throughout the country. Thomas P. Burns, of Evansville, Ind., is a native of Stoughton, and the late J. M. Hostwick, it is understood, purchased small amounts. Mark Sherwood of Chicago, a salesman for Marshall Field's, is one of the directors now "under fire."

The purchase of this stock was made several years ago by the interested parties and, at the present time, the stock is listed on the market.

CUBS VICTORIOUS OVER THE RED SOX

In Ten-Inning Game Played at the Fair Grounds Yesterday Afternoon—Score 12 to 11.

Humiliating defeat for the Red Sox and glorious victory for the Cubs was the result of the ten-inning game played at the Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon for the baseball championship of the city, the Cubs winning by the close score of 12 to 11. The defeat was all the more bitter to the Red Sox as they are all older players than the Cubs and a large crowd was present at the grounds to see the game. The Cubs had hardly expected to be able to overcome their opponents, but had a little the better of it throughout the first eight innings. In the ninth, one of their players made an error and three Sox batters trotted in home tying the score and making the extra inning necessary. Then Sullivan and Fox made a double steal and the deciding run was brought in by the Cubs. Abraham, although not in his best form, fanned fourteen Sox batters, while Carroll, the Sox star pitcher, struck out two. Eight men were given free passage to first base by Abraham and Carroll walked six. The "Little Bears" were highly elated over their success and are polishing their claws for the scrimmage next Sunday with the Tigers of Detroit at the No-No-No-No park. They wish to challenge and meet any eighteen-year-old team in the state.

The lineups yesterday were:

Cubs: Dornan, (Captain), c.; Abraham, p.; Berger, ss.; Homing, 1b.; Sullivan, 2b.; Ryan, 3b.; Griffin, 1b.; Fox, c.f.; Hall, r.f.

Red Sox: Carroll, p.; Doherty, c.; Mills, ss.; Brummond, 1b.; Porter, 2b.; E. Fleming, 3b.; W. Berger, r.f.; Leary, c.f.; Fleming, r.f.

Scores of the game:

	R.	H.	E.
Cubs	12	14	6
Red Sox	11	8	9

MR. AND MRS. GETTRICHQUICK.

His Conversion

By EDGAR FALES MOODY

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Some years ago I visited the far west, passing through a region that had been infested by the worst element of society.

I put up one night at the house of John Murphy, a sheep raiser. His ranch house was not large, but comfortable, and its decorations showed evidence of refinement. His wife was a woman who impressed me as one having considerable equipment and character. After supper I went out on the porch to have a smoke with Murphy and listened with interest to his account of the building up of his region. During our conversation I stated the opinion that men were what women made them. Then he told me his story.

"You're dead right, stranger," he said, "and I'm one of the men that has been made by a woman. When I came to this country it was from an eastern city, and my education was derived from the dime novel. I was a walt, with no father or mother to instill into me the fact that however brave the road agents and others of whom I read they were acting on a wrong principle. As it was, I admitted them, and almost before I became a man I scraped up enough money to bring me out here to live the life of my heroes of the dime novel.

"I soon got to be a hard man among them and for eight years lived a life that I would give anything I have to forget. I have to be thankful for only one thing. During that frightful period I never took a life. I didn't accumulate any money, and if I had I should later on have got rid of it.

"One evening I stopped at a house and knocked at the door. I intended to ask for some supper, expecting once inside to get my bearings for valuables and take them away with me. I had started in with the intention of confining my operations to stagecoaches, army paymasters and the like, but a man is always going either uphill or downhill, and as I was necessarily going down I wasn't above taking anything I could get my hands on, even from a woman.

"A woman came to the door. She was young and fairly good looking. To my request for some supper she gave a smiling assent, asking me to come in and make myself comfortable. She went into the kitchen, and I looked about me. There was a chimney in the room where I was with no fire. I knew a chimney was a favorite place to hide money, and, going to the fireplace, I stooped and looked up. On a projecting brick I saw a small box, which I appropriated and, lifting the cover, saw a lot of bills and loose change. I slipped it all in my pocket and put the box back in the chimney.

"By and by the young woman came in and set a good supper on the table. I ate my fill and when I had finished took out one of the coins I had taken from the box and handed it to her. "No," she said, "there's nothing to pay. You're quite welcome to your supper. I hope it has done you good. You looked tired and hungry when you came in, and I felt sorry for you. So I have given you the best in the house."

"That was the first lesson in kindness I ever received. At any rate, it was the first that ever took hold of me. When I thought of the contents of the box in my pocket and my offering one of her own coins in payment for her kindness, not the least part of which was the way she offered it, my despicable meanness seemed to shrivel me all up. I couldn't look her in the face.

"You don't need to go on," she said. "We have a spare bed upstairs." "I was thinking how I would get the money back in the box in the chimney, and it occurred to me that if I stayed there all night I could slip down in the night and do the job. So I said: 'Thank you, miss. If you don't mind I reckon I will. It'll be a great accommodation to me.'

"No more than to me. My brother and his wife have gone away for a few days and left me alone with the children. They say that Murphy's gang is operating in the neighborhood, and I wouldn't mind having a man in the house."

"In that case," I said, "I think I'll sleep on that lounge, and I'll guarantee that no man gets upstairs unless he goes over my dead body."

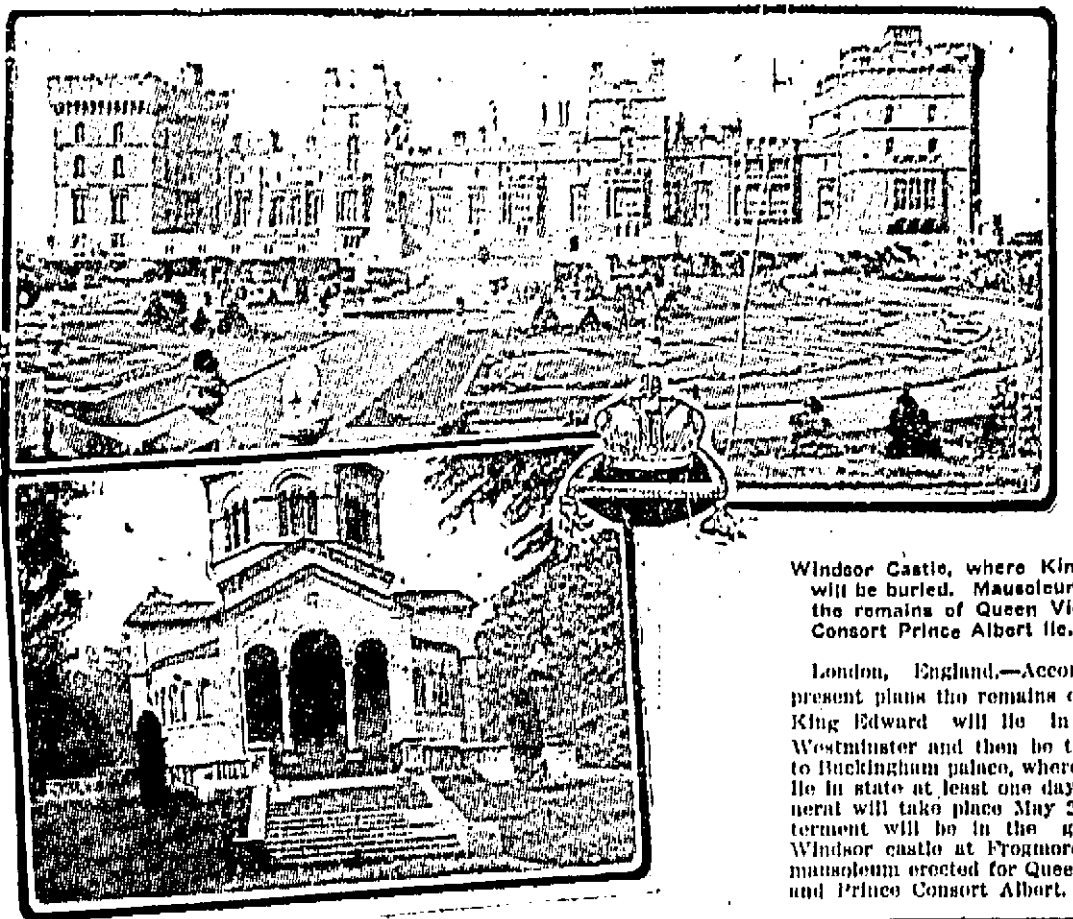

"I know two of my men would be along there that night, and I reckoned they'd take in anything by the way. The first thing I did before turning in was to put the money back in the box. When I'd done that I felt the first of a kind of comfort I'd never experienced before. I didn't go to sleep, wanting to be awake if any one called. In the middle of the night my two men, Pete Barnickel and Colorado Bill, did call. I showered bullets everywhere about them except just where they were, and they concluded there must be a whole vigilance committee inside. When they had gone I heard a soft voice call down the stairs: "Thank you."

"Just you go to sleep. I'm in command here."

"And I've been in command here ever since. I married the girl. I didn't confess till shortly before the wedding and have been living here ever since. My wife owned the property, and after I came in her brother's family went off to a ranch they bought farther west."

Skeptical.

Windsor Castle, where King Edward will be buried. Mausoleum in which the remains of Queen Victoria and Consort Prince Albert lie.

London, England.—According to present plans the remains of the late King Edward will lie in state in Westminster and then be transferred to Buckingham palace, where they will lie in state at least one day. The funeral will take place May 20, and interment will be in the grounds of Windsor castle at Frogmore, in the mausoleum erected for Queen Victoria and Prince Consort Albert.

BORT BAILEY & CO. THE CASH STORE

Save Money On Floor Coverings and Curtains at the Cash Store

You who pay cash as you go, who are independent of any merchant, will find it to your advantage to trade at this cash store, because our goods throughout are sold for less.

If you are buying Carpets, Rugs, Linoleums, Mattings, Curtains, Curtain Nets, Draperies, etc., we want you to know that our department for these goods is making special efforts RIGHT NOW. Look our goods over, you will admit that there is greater value for your money here than elsewhere.

And There is a Fundamental Reason For It

This is a cash store. So buy for Beloit and Janesville stores, FOR CASH, and because we buy large quantities we buy cheaper and take all the discounts.

Then again we mark our goods on smaller margins, because we don't have to make up for the losses the credit stores do, due to poor credits, expense of carrying accounts, interest on money tied up, expense of collections. Everything here is sold at one price, and that the LOWEST CASH PRICE possible.

100 Carpet Sample Ends at Half and Two-Thirds

We have about 100 sample ends of carpets, ranging in lengths 13-8 to 11-2 yards, that we are selling remarkably cheap. They are the greatest bargains on this class of goods in Southern Wisconsin. They include Tapestries, Velvets and Body Brussels, suitable for small rugs. See window display.

SPECIAL—Imported Linoleum, 50c value in discontinued patterns, per yard - - 39c

Carpets, Rugs, Curtains, Draperies, Mattings, Linoleums

We direct especial attention to this department, because it is a time when most women have the purchases from this stock in mind.

THE SAVINGS IN THIS DEPARTMENT RUN UP INTO DOLLARS QUICKLY AND THOSE INTENDING TO PURCHASE WILL FIND IT ADVANTAGEOUS TO BUY HERE.

Our stocks are complete in every respect and the qualities will be found better for the money, or the asking price will be less.

Another good feature of this store is that One Price is made to all. One woman's money is as good as another's here, and every caller is given but one price on each article, the LOWEST CASH PRICE WE CAN TAKE.

Our Rugs

include such well known makes as Bigelow, Bagdad Wiltons, Sandford Seamless Velvets, Sandford Brussels, Sandford 10 and 9 wire Brussels, Ingrains, Axminsters, etc.

Our Carpets by the Yard include Wilton Velvets, Body Brussels, Velvet Carpets, Tapestry Brussels, with borders and without borders.

Our Curtains and Curtain Nets offer selections that are hard to beat and values that are the biggest in Southern Wisconsin. Included are French Lace Curtains, Dentelle Arabe, Fillet Curtains, and many others.

Whether you need furnishings for just one room or for the whole house, it will pay you to see our stock.

Can't Please Everybody.

The manager of an asbestos mill in the west conceived a novel idea for New Year's announcements. He had them printed on thin asbestos and enclosed in envelopes of the same material. As he was uncertain of the correct addresses of some of the stockholders he ordered his stenographer to write on each envelope "Please forward."

The idea was clever, but one may appreciate the feelings of the widow of one of the stockholders when she received an asbestos envelope addressed to her late husband, with the inscription "Please forward" beneath the address.—Lippincott's.

What Keeps the World Alive.

There's the world at large; town, village, country, sea. What is it all about? A man's search for his God, his struggle to fill his stomach, and his desire for his mate. It is only love that keeps the whole pathetic mass together. Fine, slender cords, binding men and women. The light in a woman's eyes, the smiles of children, the actions men do from affection—these things keep the world alive. Nothing matters but that. The worst man loves somebody. The best man loves everybody.—New York Press.

The Fishing Otter.

The otter used by Scottish poachers is one of the most deadly fishing instruments known. In some waters it is far more effective than a net. It may be described as a water kite, which serves to take out over the water a line bearing 50 or more flies. The otter itself is a floating piece of board loaded along one side to keep it upright. The poacher walks along the side of the loch or river, letting out the fly-decorated line as he goes, the otter board gradually working out toward the center. An enormous area of water is fished at one time and numbers of fish are killed.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Asbestos Slates Waterproof.

Asbestos slates, now produced in Munich, are claimed to have been made quite waterproof and as hard and strong as ordinary slates, so that they may be used for walls and roofs without wooden lathing. They can be bored, cut and nailed like wood. They give a fireproof covering, have great value for electrical insulation, and serve for the surface of walls and ceilings of all kinds, doors, bulkheads, etc., to protect them not only from fire, but also from heat, cold, dampness, disease germs and vermin of every variety.

No Comfort at All.

Fisher, "that sea water is freighted with much gold, but no one has yet discovered how to extract it." Prof. Fisher could hardly have been forgetful, in saying this, of the Middletown philanthropist who did extract much gold on the theory that there is gold in sea water. He did not, however, extract said gold from the waves of the sea, but from the pockets of confiding persons who believed in his scheme. Some of the sufferers may be comforted by the professor's authoritative assurance that there is gold in sea water.

Romance of Oriental Rugs.

More than 3,000 years ago, as tiles and marbles from Nineveh show, splendid fabrics were being produced for the adornment of the palaces of the kings of Assyria, and every Oriental rug becomes a magic carpet when one realizes how through the long days of the long centuries these simple people have been weaving in with the colors of the jewels and the rainbow the sunshine and shadow of their own lives. How much of tears and sighing have gone to the tying of the myriad knots or followed the flying shuttle on its journeys to and fro!

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"DOROTHY, I think you'd better go upstairs to your room," said Dorothy's mother, "and stay there until supper. This is the fourth time you've torn your dress this week."

Dorothy had come into the room where her mother and I were sewing, to show her mother a terrible three-cornered tear she had just given her pretty gingham dress.

"I don't usually believe in punishing children for mistakes," said Dorothy's mother, "after the small person had turned with quivering lip and tear-filled eyes to go up stairs, but this is really the fourth time this week she has torn her dress, and she is always tearing or breaking or some way running something, and it doesn't seem to me there is any need of it."

"Look at Ellis. She plays the same games that Dorothy does and goes everywhere and does everything with her and yet she almost never tears her clothes, and she keeps them clean just about twice as long as Dorothy does."

"Of course, I didn't dare say very much then. I knew it wouldn't be quite polite to defend Dorothy too vigorously when her mother had thought fit to punish her."

But I'm going to take the opportunity now to say what I wanted to say then.

And I'm saying it not only for Dorothy's mother in case she chooses to read this, but for mothers of Dorothy everywhere.

I don't believe it was any more Dorothy's fault that she tore her dress than it was Ellis' that she didn't.

I truly believe that some children are born with a tendency to have things happen to them.

Their clothes tear, their stockings get holes in them, their toys break, their phonographs get dirty, their shoes wear out faster than other children's just naturally, without their being in any way naughty.

Poor kiddies. So often in disgrace, so often scolded, and yet most of the time very little to blame.

So good to your Dorothy's mothers. Be as patient as your wonderful mother heart teaches you how to be, and then a lot more. I know it is a pretty hard task sometimes, this being the mother of a Dorothy, but sometimes it pays. For sometimes when they grow up, the nervous energy, and the humor-scurry ways, and the dynamism that caused the torn aprons and worn out shoes and soiled phonographs, may be developed into qualities that will make you proud to be the mother of a Dorothy.

Help them to try to conquer and subdue themselves, of course. Help them to try to acquire the poise and self-possession that will make it possible to partly overcome their tendency to mishaps.

But please, oh mothers of Dorothy's everywhere—and of course this means little boy Dorothy's, too—please pray for patience if you need to—and I'm pretty sure you will—not blame them for those things that are truly—their misfortunes, not their faults."

A TROUSSEAU PETTICOAT.

The transparent frock of course demands an entire slip reaching from shoulder to ankle, but under the dainty frocks of silk and wool, white mohair or poplin weaves, which are provided with bodice flings, hang some petticoats are worn. Such a petticoat is illustrated; the material being soft white silk with an accordion plaited flounce from the knee down, sections of this flounce are embrodered in a showy eyelet pattern and the foot of the flounce is finished with two tiny ruffles which make the plaiting stand out in charming frantastic effect.

ally affected by the death of King Edward. At left, Duchess of Marlbor-

London, England.—With the death of King Edward it is quite likely that there will be a change in the attitude of British royalty toward the wealthy Americans who were so popular with the late sovereign. Queen

Mary, it is said, is not disposed to favor such aspirations of new-world nobles, and moreover, the court's agencies will be very materially curtailed under the reign of George V.

day!"

NOT A MONEY-MAKING PROPO- SITION.

By MARY RUSSELL.

Did you ever go into the little cheap restaurants and survey the crowd? You will be surprised to find the class is not so cheap as the price would indicate. The effort to adjust the present high scale of prices with the same old sense of necessities is driving the man and woman who formerly selected the place where they ate with a thought for duty surroundings to hunt the cheap or places.

Talk to the man or woman who runs the place and the gloom that will become apparent will appal you. When there is a cheap eating place on every block in a city business district there would seem to be a demand which suggests a money making proposition, but the person who runs such a place tells a different story.

"I don't know what I am coming to," said a weary looking woman who had cultivated a mechanical smile that kept in evidence through her most sorrowful moments. "By the time the rent is paid and the light and fuel bills are entered for the help satisfied and the bills of the running expenses cleared up I am in the hole every month. We can't charge much for the public won't stand for it, but we are going to close up if something does not happen to lower prices of food a little. A person can't make an honest living for there are three or four restaurants that are closed by the sheriff every week in this town, and people are just as hard to please as ever."

Have you been in the habit of finding fault with your landlady, or at the foot she sets before you? Don't you sometimes forget that a boarding house is not run automatically and that a tired human heart beats back at the mechanical smile which greets you as you pass in succession into the dining room? The man who would not hurt a worm will talk with a sincerely hidden sarcasm about the food, which is quite as good as he can afford to purchase.

The subject of the wiles of the boarding house keeper has been a profile theme for the professional journalist. All her fancies and fables are aired, until it is almost a reproach to attempt to make a living along this hardest of paths.

It is a strange thing that it should be so when men so constantly preach the domestic virtues. It would seem that all the civility of the nature which preaches so eloquently of the "clinging vine," would be touched by the attempt of a woman to make a living by means of the domestic talents which are the only ones she has cultivated.

I would respectfully suggest to the courtesan that the field devoted to the critical and sarcastic cheap
boarder has as yet been untold.

There is a large field for pointed commentary there, and it is certainly time that a rest be given the overworked landlady, who is usually more kind than she looks and fairly tender as to feelings under her withered exterior.

RICE BETTER THAN POTAT- TOES.

Rice at six cents a pound is cheaper than potatoes at a dollar a bushel. Potatoes contain a larger percentage of water, and there is much waste, especially in the spring. There is practically no waste in rice and it is more easily digested than potatoes and more nutritious, especially if unmilled and prepared in the fireless cooker.
The broken rice is not inferior on that account. The unpollished rice contains every element of nutrition and will support life indefinitely, as the example of the Japanese "rickshaw" men and Chinese coolies shows.
Greater strength and endurance, and far better health, moral, as well as physical, can be maintained on unpollished rice, with a little fruit as a separate meal, than on meat, white bread and potatoes, or with whatever else may be eaten in addition to these.

Advantages of a Cook.

When the woman went in to see her Bavarian neighbor another woman sat there. The Bavarian failed to introduce her. Finally the other woman got up and went in the kitchen. Then the Bavarian explained:
"She's a cook," she said. "One of my friends I used to have when I was a cook, too. She was thinking how to do her work on her. She did not have to deal with others, or wash or do lettuce or anything. It was all done for her. She had a maid, she got dirty dishes a maid. Now, you! You work hard, and by the end of the day, you have so much as dirty dishes left off? Is it? Yes?"
"Hardly," admitted the woman, andly "Vol, den," her Bavarian neighbor said.

Quarrels of Friends.

I think I have observed universally that the quarrels of friends in the latter part of life are never truly reconciled. A wound in the friendship of young persons, may be so grown over as to leave no scar. The case is very different as regards old persons and old friends. The reason of this may be accounted for the decline of the social passions, and the prevalence of spleen, suspicion, and rancor, towards the latter part of life.

KNOWLEDGE THE ONLY SAFEGUARD

DR. POWELL SPOKE AT METHUEN DIST CHURCH ON CHASTITY AND PURITY.

PROPER INSTRUCTIONS TO

Children in the Duty of Every Parent and Should not Be Left to Others or Neglected.

"Chastity and Purity," a common-sense, practical sermon to the parents chiefly, was delivered by Dr. Perry Edwards (Powell), in the Methuen church yesterday morning. The text was taken from the writings of the Apostle Paul, "My people perish for want of knowledge." Stories and illustrations from everyday life were used by the speaker to bring out his meaning.

"In our work of organizing the children of the Kingdom of the Holy Spirit," said Dr. Powell, "I always speak to them on purity and try to talk with each of the young men personally. I remember in one of the cities where I recently finished a series of meetings, there was one young man with whom I had been unable to get a chance to speak. Finally one evening I met him as he was coming out of the church after the services and asked him if I could speak with him. He invited me to do so, and I broached the subject of personal purity to him. He agreed with all I said and finally spoke up saying, 'Why doesn't somebody speak to us on that subject?' How many preachers, teachers, and parents are there who have not given the young men in their charge and their sons, the proper instruction about themselves. A young man wants to receive the proper instruction and not the improper instruction the one often receives. The general attitude of the home is to keep the children in ignorance of themselves. Parents seem to be ignorant of the fact that their children are growing up without a proper knowledge of themselves. Somebody is going to give them that knowledge and sometimes that knowledge comes from an evil source. This is what we all do. We act on the knowledge that we have, and if that knowledge is not of the very best, we act accordingly. Let us look at the toll of ignorance and see if knowledge will work such destruction among the human family. I'll simply make the statement that eighty per cent of the surgical operations performed on women are the results of the social evil. These figures were given by one of the leading medical journals. That is the result of trying to keep the rising generation in ignorance.

What is the cost of ignorance? Take the number of asylums in your state. Those are full of the victims of those diseases which could have been prevented by proper instruction, and most of which cannot now be cured by medical skill. These are the result of the social plague which is sweeping through the human race. What God wants us to come to is the proper instruction from the father to the son and from mother to daughter. Your son is asking it today and God opens the subject up to us so that we can follow it. In following this we will give the children the instruction He wants them to have. It is a proper subject for the preacher to talk about and for everyone of us to speak of.

The people and the state are doing much to prevent the spread of animal diseases. Recently the hoof and mouth disease broke out and in a few months the disease had been traced to its origin and finally stamped out. Why can't the same be done with the human body? Said a member of the Indiana legislature, "I have been appealed to by many people to introduce and vote for laws to save the children from disease, but not one of them has said anything about the prevention of disease in the human family."

Let us face this question. Can't we believe as much in the boy as in the girl, as much in the girl as in the cow, or in the horse as much as in the pig. I am not going to appeal any less for the hog, but more for the boy; not any less for the cow but appeal more for the girl; and make an appeal for the human family as well as the dumb brute on the farm. If you can keep the brute animals free from disease by proper laws you can keep the human animal free from these obnoxious diseases by knowledge.

We need protection just as much as we need knowledge. Anything we need is example. People know by the shadows we cast. What you are speaks so loudly that men cannot hear what you say.

There are just two looks. The first is to look into the face of the father. How can any man be won to God by standing fast and looking into the face of the Heavenly Father. The other look is this: Fathers, look into the faces of your sons and see that they are pure. There are your name and reputation for hundreds of years to come. O fathers, look into the faces of your boys and give them the knowledge so that they will avoid temptation. Remember the plea, "My people perish for want of knowledge."

SEEK TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS.

National Association of Manufacturers Discuss Life-Saving Methods.

New York, May 10.—The prevention of accidents in industrial establishments, employers' liability and industrial insurance are the chief topics to be discussed in the fifteenth annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers which opened here today. The widespread interest in these matters has resulted in making this one of the largest meetings ever held by the association.

The 3,000 manufacturers composing the association are determined to make the action of this convention the beginning of a new era in the United States in the matter of safeguarding life and limb of employees and securing equitable compensation for injuries. A report on the subject will be made by a committee appointed several months ago by President John Kirby, Jr., and addresses will be made by Prof. F. R. Hutton of the American Institute of Safety and Miles H. Dawson who has studied accident prevention abroad. A series of prizes will be offered for the best method of preventing accidents. President Kirby in his address recommended that the association send two experts to Europe to study the industrial insurance and employers' liability laws in England and on the continent.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS TAKE CHARGE OF BRIBERY SCANDAL CHIEF WITNESS.

BREACH IN PROBE WIDENS

State's Attorney at Springfield Hints at an Attack on Prosecutor Blocking the Investigation.

Chicago, May 10.—The controversy between State's Attorney Burke at Springfield and Wayman, at Chicago, over jurisdiction in the state legislature bribery investigation was intensified when Mr. Burke issued a statement at the capital insinuating that he intends to attack Mr. Wayman through the courts on the proposition that the Chicago man is blocking the Springfield end of the inquiry.

White Put Under Guard.

State's Attorney Wayman, in an endeavor to curb up all possible leakages of the evidence he has gathered for the trial of Lee O'Neill Brown, indicted for bribery, which came up today before Judge McShure, placed his chief witness, Representative Charles A. White of O'Fallon, in the custody of deputy sheriffs. Similar precautions were planned to keep Representative H. J. C. Beckmeier, who made confession No. 2, in Chicago, until the trial of Brown is finished.

A fear that if the witnesses in the Brown and Wilson cases went before the Sangamon county grand jury and repeated their confessions the testimony might get out, and thus put the defense in full possession of all the evidence collected by the Cook county prosecutor in the Brown and Wilson cases, will lead Mr. Wayman to fight to the last ditch any further efforts to get his witnesses before the jurors at Springfield.

May Subpoena Jurors.

In addition, a report that State's Attorney Burke is planning to subpoena members of the special grand jury of Cook county to appear before the Sangamon grand jury probably will lead the special grand jury to be kept in existence indefinitely instead of being discharged Tuesday as was contemplated.

The question of jurisdiction was the first point over which the lawyers debated when the Brown case was called up before Judge McShure. Attorneys for the defense declined to make any formal statement about their plans prior to going into court, but one member of the Brown legal battery reiterated that the defense will seek to have the bribery indictment against Brown quashed forthwith on the ground that Cook county has no jurisdiction in the case.

In support of this plan is to cite the recent decision of Judge Shirley when he refused Attorney General Sten's request that the Sangamon county grand jury be instructed to postpone its investigation in order that no interference might be made with the prosecution of the cases worked up in Cook county.

EXPLODING BOILERS KILL FOUR.

Battery of Fire Gave Away at Pennsylvania Mine.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 10.—A battery of five boilers at the Chestnut mine of the Diamond Coal and Coke company, a mile from Brownsville, Pa., blew up, killing four men, injuring many persons and causing a supply loss of about $15,000. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

The explosion set fire to houses close by in which the families of employees lived, and three were totally destroyed with all their contents. Nine others were badly damaged, leaving 100 persons homeless.

Railway Storekeepers Convene.

St. Louis, May 10.—Railway storekeepers from all parts of the country gathered in the Platters hotel here today for the opening of the seventh annual convention of their association, which will last three days.

The attendance is the largest in the history of the organization. Many papers on subjects pertaining to the storekeeper's work will be read.

HOME ON OUTSKIRTS OF CITY DESTROYED BY FIRE YESTERDAY.

Residence Of Edward Voletz On River Road North Of Town, Almost Entirely Burned.

The home of Edward Voletz on the river road just north of the city was almost entirely destroyed by fire late yesterday afternoon. The fire was discovered by Mr. Voletz, who was sitting in the yard of the home, taking care of some of the children, while the rest of the family were at church attending a christening. He noticed smoke coming from the house and immediately ran inside to see what was the trouble. When he reached the inside the whole lower floor was filled with smoke. He ran out, telephoned the fire station and with the aid of neighbors, started to remove what things they could from the home.

When the alarm was sent in, it was not stated how bad the fire was, and just the wagons were sent out. On arriving there it was found that the fire hose would be needed and an attempt was made to lay it from the hydrant at the gas plant, but it was found that the equipment would not reach that far and the engine was sent for. Twelve hundred and fifty feet of hose had to be used then, at a place in the pond, of sufficient depth so that the engine would not sink the pond with the water, had to be found. There was little hope of saving the home so the efforts of the firemen were directed to preventing the flames from spreading. But little was saved from the second floor of the home, most of the contents of the first story were removed, slightly damaged, and it is thought that canned fruit and potatoes in the basement and cellar were undamaged.

The estimated loss on the house was about $2,500. This was insured for a thousand dollars and there insurance amounting to two hundred dollars on the furniture. The cause of the fire is unknown but it is thought to have arisen in one of the chimneys, although no fire in the house since noon. The blaze yesterday was particularly unfortunate for Mr. Voletz as negotiations for the sale of the place had been partially made.

TO CONDUCT INDEPENDENT INVESTIGATION OF ILLINOIS BRIBERY CHARGES.
Edmund Burke, State's Attorney at Springfield Ill.

Springfield, Ill.—I shall insist on conducting the investigation in Sangamon county into all forms of legislative bribery and in eradicating whatever corruption is found to exist.

With this statement State's Attorney Edmund Burke today summed the opening of the battle between Governor Edward D. Hughes, General Stand and State's Attorney Wayman of Cook county on the one hand and himself on the other over the permission to carry on his grand jury investigation of corruption in the general

F. M. KERBY CAUSES A STIR

BALLINGER EMPLOYEE'S CHARGE CREATES BIG SENSATION AT PINCHOT INQUIRY.

IT INVOLVES THE PRESIDENT

Stenographer Declares Assistant Attorney General Lawler Drafted Letter Exonerating Secretary of Interior From Glavis Charges.

Washington, May 16.—President Taft's letter of last September ordering the dismissal of L. A. Glavis from the land office service and exonerating Secretary Ballinger from the charges preferred by Glavis was based upon and in part directly quoted from a draft of a letter written by Oscar Lawler, assistant attorney general of the interior department. The Lawler letter was drafted in such form that it might have been adopted verbatim and signed by the president.

The draft by Mr. Lawler was delivered to the Ballinger-Pinchot committee and ordered spread upon the records of the investigation. Careful comparison of the Lawler draft with the letter shows that Mr. Taft did in fact adopt practically verbatim two short paragraphs of Mr. Lawler's language. The substance of the two documents is otherwise widely dissimilar.

Kerby Story Starts Sensation.

The thing came to a head in the publication of a statement attributed to Frederick M. Kerby, one of the stenographers in the office of Secretary Ballinger, in which Kerby related at length the circumstances under which he alleged the Lawler draft to have been prepared.

Kerby asserts further that all of the preliminary drafts used in the preparation of the letter were burned in a grate in the interior department at the suggestion and under the supervision of Don M. Carr, Mr. Ballinger's private secretary.

Kerby drew the inference that the Lawler draft had been adopted by the president essentially as his own; that Mr. Ballinger and his legal adviser therefore virtually had prepared the exoneration which Mr. Taft had issued over his own signature.

Almost simultaneously with the publication of the Kerby statement Attorney General Wickersham sent to the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee, then in session, a copy of the Lawler draft, accompanied by a letter to Chairman Nelson in which Mr. Wickersham declared the document had been overlooked in sending the papers requisitioned by the committee at the behest of Attorney Brandeis.

White House Issues Denial.

The publication of the Kerby statement evoked from the White House a statement declaring there was "absolutely no foundation" for the statement "that the president's letter of September 13, 1909, was substantially prepared for the president's signature by Assistant Attorney General Lawler" and asserting unequivocally that "the president dictated his letter personally as the result of his own investigation of the records and consideration of documents and papers in his possession at the time and upon the report of the attorney general."

It was further pointed out, both at the White House and by Attorney General Wickersham himself, that a comparison of the Lawler draft and the president's letter would show that the inferences of the Kerby statement were unwarranted.

Mr. Wickersham alluded to the practice common in the government departments of subordinate preparing letters and documents for the consideration of their superiors and their use by them in whole or in part as they might see fit.

Taft Issues Statement.

President Taft last night issued a sweeping statement explaining in detail the charges made by F. M. Kerby that the president's letter of last September, exonerating Secretary Ballinger, was written by Assistant Attorney General Lawler.

The president declares that in the ordinary course of business, after he had made a full investigation of the Glavis charges against Mr. Ballinger and had reached a conclusion he requested Mr. Lawler to prepare for him a statement in line with those conclusions. The statement thus prepared, the president declares, was not satisfactory in several particulars, notably in the respect that it contained unnecessary references to Clifford Pinchot and Louis Glavis, whereupon he, the president, dictated a new letter, in which but one or two sentences of the Lawler draft were embodied.

Precedent for His Action.

In explanation of this course it is pointed out that it is the invariable custom in departmental matters, after a decision has been reached, based on a consideration of all the facts, to have a statement or resume prepared for the convenience of the president by an official who is conversant with all the details of the case as well as with the decision that the president has reached. This, the president declares, is what was done in the case in point. Coupled with this statement is an explanation by the president that it was at his direction that Attorney General Wickersham dated back the report on the Glavis charges about which there has been so much controversy before the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee. The president declares that here again a long-established custom was followed. The attorney general early in September made a verbal report from notes in the Ballinger affair and left those notes with the president. From the notes and the verbal report the president, after a study of the records, reached his decision. As he was anxious to dispose of the case before he departed on his transcontinental trip, he dictated the letter exonerating Secretary Ballinger and instructed the attorney general to prepare a detailed report and date it as of the same day that the verbal report was made.

Writes Letter to Nelson.

The president's statement is in the shape of a letter to Senator Knute Nelson, chairman of the joint committee which is investigating Secretary Ballinger. It was issued after a long conference at the White House in which at various times the attorney general, as well as Secretaries Nagle and Dickinson participated. Secretary Ballinger was not called into the conference.

SIX SENTENCED IN PITTSBURG.

Former Councilmen and Bankers Given Heavy Penalties for Grafting.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 16.—Ten prominent men of affairs of Pittsburg, including bankers, physicians and former leading politicians, faced Judge Robert S. Frazer in the criminal court to receive their sentences on various charges of bribery and conspiracy in connection with councilmanic corruption recently exposed.

Six were given terms in jail and fined and sentence of four was deferred. Of the ten men who appeared in court all except one have already pleaded no defense to indictments alleging the giving and receiving of bribes.

Sentences were imposed as follows: A. A. Vilsack, former cashier (German National bank; eight months in the county jail and a fine of $5,000.

Charles Stewart, former select councilman; eight months in the county jail and a fine of $500.

Hugh Ferguson, former common councilman; eight months in the county jail and a fine of $500.

Dr. W. H. Weber, former select councilman; six months in the county jail and a fine of $500.

P. H. Keweenaw, former select councilman; four months in the county jail and a fine of $250.

Morris Glustein, former select councilman; six months in the county jail and a fine of $2,500.

"BATH TUB" MYSTERY TRIAL ON.

Three Aged Women Are Charged With Murder of Okey Sneed.

Newark, N. J., May 16.—The placing on trial here today of Miss Virginia Wardlaw, Mrs. Caroline H. Martin and Mrs. Mary Sneed, charged jointly with the murder of Mrs. Okey Sneed, marks the beginning of another chapter in the now famous "bath tub" mystery, one of the most baffling cases in the criminal annals of the east.

The curious manner in which the beautiful young woman met her death last November, the fact that the three defendants are sisters and members of an old southern family, and that one is the mother and the other two the aunts of the victim, have all combined to arouse an unusual degree of interest. To this will be added a mass of unconvincing evidence that will be presented by the prosecution at the trial in attempt to show that these three old women were responsible for the death of young Mrs. Sneed, and that this cold-blooded crime was committed, in order that they might obtain the $25,000 insurance on the victim's life.

Warrant for Missing Bank Cashier Discloses Enormous Theft.

Ulen, N. Y., May 16.—J. Howard Lowery, assistant cashier of the Utica City National bank, disappeared several weeks ago and a warrant was issued for his arrest on the charge of appropriating money amounting to about $14,000.

It developed that Lowery had been speculating on a large scale. The bank has filed a suit against him to recover $115,000.

The complaint avers that Lowery's thefts began in 1906, totaling in four years, $144,500, during which time, however, he had restored $29,000. His friends fear he has committed suicide.

Plane Dealers at Richmond.

Richmond, Va., May 16.—Richmond was invaded and captured today by hundreds of plane dealers and their wives and families. The ninth annual convention of the dealers' national association began with President E. H. Droop of Washington in the chair and with a program that provides for a lot of social entertainment in addition to the business sessions.

This is the first meeting of the association at which the manufacturers have had exhibits of their products.

"Monsieur," she cried, "back with you!"

Pinkham, angered as he was, seemed half to hear my footsteps, seemed half to know the swinging of the draperies, even as I stopped back in obedience to her gesture. Her wit was as quick as ever.

"My lord," she said, "pray close your window. The draft is bad, and, moreover, we should have secrecy." He obeyed her, and she led him still further from the thought of investigating his surroundings.

"Now, my lord," she said, "take back what you have just said!"

"Under penalty?" he answered.

"Of your life, yes."

"So?" he granted admiringly; "well, now, I like fire in a woman, even a deadly light-of-love like you!"

"Monsieur!" her voice cried again; and once more it restrained me in my hiding.

"You devil!" he resumed, sneering now in all his ugliness of white and rage of disappointment. "What were you? Mistress of the price of France? Toy of a score of nobles? Slave of that infamous rake, your husband? Much you've got in your life to make you upbraid now with me!"

"My lord," she said evenly, "retract that. If you do not, you shall not leave this place alive."

In some way she mastered him, even in his angry mood.

"Well, well," he growled, "I admit we don't get on very well in our little love-affair; but I swear you drive me out of my mind. I'll never find another woman in the world like you. It's Sir Richard Pinkham asks you to be his new future with himself."

"We begin no future, my lord."

"What do you mean? Have you fled to me? Do you mean to break your word—your promise?"

"It is within the hour that I have learned what the truth is."

"God damn my soul!" I heard his curse, growling.

"Yes, my lord," she answered, "God will damn your soul in so far as it is that of a brute and not that of a gentleman or a statesman."

I heard him drop into a chair. "This from one of your sort!" he half whimpered.

"Stop, now!" she cried, "Not one word more of that! I say within the hour I have learned what is the truth. I am Helena von Ritz, thief on the coast, and at last clean!"

"God Almighty, madam! How plausible!" he sneered. "Something's happened! I know your record. What woman of the court of Austria or France comes out with morals? We used you here because you had none. And now, when it comes to the settlement between you and me, you talk like a nun. As though a title from virtue such as yours would be missed!"

"Ah, my God!" I heard her murmur. Then again she called to me, as she thought to herself; so that all was as it had been, for the time.

A silence fell before she went on.

"Sir Richard," she said at length, "we do not meet again. I await now your full apology for these things you have said. Such secrets as I have learned of England's, you know will remain safe with me. Also your own secret will be safe. Retract, then, what you have said."

YOUR BACKACHE WILL YIELD

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Bloomfield, Ohio.—"I suffered from terrible headaches, pains in my back and right side, and was tired all the time and nervous. I could not sleep, and every month I could hardly stand the pain. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health again and made me feel like a new woman. I hope this letter will induce other women to avail themselves of this valuable medicine."—Mrs. E. M. Farnsworth, Bloomfield, Ohio.

Backache is a symptom of female weakness or derangement. If you have backache do not neglect it. It can get permanent relief. You must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so safely and surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Cure the cause of these distressing aches and pains and you will become well and strong.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has restored health to thousands of women.

Great Wisconsin Land Opening

150,000 Acres in Sawyer County, Wisconsin, Released for Settlement.

$6.50 to $20 Per Acre and Easy Terms.

Yielding to the urgent and unceasing demands of home-seekers, the lumber interests of this section have released for settlement a great acreage of rich undeveloped land in the heart of Wisconsin's great dairy and big cranberry sections.

The American Lumber Company of Chicago, Falls, Wis., has secured this great body of land and is offering remarkable inducements to producers, investors and settlers.

The land is sold at $6.50 to $20 per acre in town, village or city. The company is selling off this land at the remarkably low valuation of $1.50 to $2.50 per acre.

The terms are one-fourth to one-third cash and the balance in ten years. This is an extraordinary opportunity for a man with a few hundred dollars and a determination to win can get one of these splendid farms and be independent in a few years. There is timber to be cleared away, but much of it is valuable hardwood, which can be turned into lumber at the nearby sawmills.

The timber can then be made to pay for the land and provide timber for farm buildings and fences.

Settlers in the Round Lake Country have the advantages of good markets, railroad facilities, telephone and mail service, schools, churches and good neighbors. It is a country of abundant rainfall and the prospect of water.

Hundreds are headed for the Round Lake Country, Sawyer County, determined to get a fresh start in a new country, where every man has a "ground floor opportunity."
